HERMIA'S AND LYSANDER'S ROMANTIC LOVE STORY

Many years a city, where people used to be friendly and helpful to each other, lived one noble family with an exciting and funny girl who was named Hermia. This family was happy with their only daughter, until the day, when her father was died. She was 15 years old when this happened. As long as anyone could remember, they didn't use to be the same family as before. But this story doesn't stop here! Hermia used to go to school, like every kind used to go school and she never let anyone to reveal her feelings. She was a really sensitive person. Hermia was a young girl, with a special character she was a very mature and a very responsible girl to her school obligations every day. She had got long, brown hair, brown eyes and she was tall. She loved flowers very much and she went to dancing lessons, because she wanted to be a professional dancer. Dancing was her dream! Nevertheless, everything went very well, when one day suddenly....

As, Hermia was getting into her class she caught sight of a boy so handsome that she could not be in her thinking of anything else. All day she was storing at him and thinking of him. She had a big crush on him. Her heart was beating so fast as if she couldn't breath any more and she felt a fire ,which was burning her heart. She felt that she had got lots of butterflies inside her and she began to lose her mind. She got ill in and she couldn't eat anything. She had fallen so deeply in love that she wasn't hungry at all and she didn't feel anything. She did not think of anything else! In her thoughts there was only a strange and handsome boy, Lysander. Oh, she was really happy only with Lysander!

This boy, Lysander, he lived with his only parent because his mother was dead like Hernia's father. Lysander was a quiet boy, who was disillusioned with his mother's death. He loved her very much and helped her with the housework her works. He had a lot of problems and his mind and he was nervous about carrying out his school obligations though, he was a very creative person. He had got short, black hair, beautiful blue eyes and he was tall. He loved sports very much and he wanted to be a personal trainer to football, when he got a little older! He loved the expensive and fast cars and he wanted to be a very successful person!

When the school finished Hermia decided to go home, until she saw the Lysander. The feelings, that she had, were so real that she almost believed in them and she was dedicated to Lysander. As she was going up the stairs, she fell over. This happened because she couldn't see anything else, because she was staring at the boy. She was constantly thinking about him, so she forgot all her problems and sometimes her obligations for her school -I had not seen any other girl so much in love with a boy!!-

A few minutes later, Hermia opened her eyes and she saw Lysander standing over her head asking her if she felt all right. Lysander took care of Hermia very much and he did not want her to be hurt and disappointed with him. Lysander was a sensitive persona Hermia and he loved her very much. He was very friendly with her and at the same time a stubborn child intense with his passions. Hermia told to him that she felt okay and she didn't want him to be sad and pessimistic.

The two kinds became the best friends ever! Hermia and Lysander were friendly to each other and every day they were together, had took fun, joked, helped each other and they never got angry. Also, they told their secrets to each other. It was a special and an ideal relationship which was based on trust and confidence. No one in the class felt the same way .Many students in the class could see to their love and long lasting friendship.

But, when school was over for holidays, they had to take separate ways and broke their friendships because Lysander decided to go to the America to study to get a job. As for Hermia, she didn't say the only secret she had: Her love to Lysander! She felt empty without Lysander and disappointed. She was so far from Lysander and isolated became because she was not at all sociable with her fellow students anymore and she had communication with noone.

Now you will be thinking what happens? Well.....

TEN YEARS LATER

To begin with, Lysander never forgot Hermia because he loved her as a true friend and Hermia didn't forget him either because she had failed in love with him.

Suddenly, the news that Lysander was coming back from America made, Hermia very happy.

In addition to this new, Hermia decided to go and visit the Lysander. She found him in his old house where he lived. When she saw him, she couldn't believe in her eyes. She was really shocked and her heart started beating fast because he had changed. Not in his character but in his look. Lysander saw a girl who looked like Hermia and approached her to ask if she was Hermia and she said that she was...As he had got a lot of work and his desire was fired so much as he asked her to meet him in the following day for coffee. When this day came, Hermia was waiting for him but he didn't come because his father was in hospital. He didn't call her because someone had stolen his phone, so Hermia wasn't informed about what had happened to Lysander until this time. She was very upset and nervous about him, she was cried for many days on her bed and she did not want to see him again. She wants to his blue eyes, which she had loved so much!!She believed it was unfair to feel and think about him constantly because he could be in love with! Oh! She was so sad and disappointed. For this reason, she got ill and her mother was upset and hurt with her and went to Lysander's House. Lysander when he heard what had happened to Hermia ran very quickly to Hermia's House. He had decided to tell her everything and that he decided his emotions for her had changed now. He did only see her as friend, but an intensive was in his heart for her, like the sun and the fire burning his heart!!Suddenly, he came to her house and was outside her door. When she saw him, cried too much, and fell down, but Lysander took her in his arms and kissed her so passionately much as Hermia didn't feel anything else anymore.

Hermia's house was the countryside the birds were singing, the children were playing and the sun was shining. Everything was beautiful and exciting! Every day two birds were flying outside Hermia's door resembling Lysander and Hermia. Every night two stars were shining in the sky so much like Lysander and Hermia. Everything reminds us of their lives and their love story. Everyone remembers these children, which had been together since school and everybody knows their love and their feelings, even though Lysander did not accept his love for Hermia! However, seemed intensive and real. Now they live in an imaginary world, in a lovely world and in a romantic space alone, without anyone living near them.

Lysander helped Hermia to get over the danger. Two weeks later they met again. This meeting was very good to be true because they started talking about their moments when they were teenagers at the school and they remembered all the good things they used to do together. Their passion was longer and longer day after day and they spent kissing the whole day together walking singing or their kisses in the forest!

The following year, Lysander suggested that he and Hermia should go to their old school to see their friends. Their friends hadn't change a lot and they were still the same as before. Also they saw their teachers and the headteacher, who told them about the prom which would take place on Friday and all the people were welcomed. Hermia and Lysander decided to go but Lysander didn't ask Hermia to be his date and she was wondering why; Then she asked him and he told her that he already had a date.

Hermia got really on disappointed, she felt as if someone had killed her and cut her heart. To tell you the truth, Lysander didn't realize anything about Hermia's disappointment and didn't pay so much point. Hermia was so sensitive, but in sociable and hid their feelings ideas. So she didn't speak to with Lysander but changed her altitude. She was a strange and isolated person and believed that Lysander did not love her anymore without knowing the reason. Something strange happened to Lysander, but Hermia didn't know. It would be better, if she knew what had changed with her boyfriend, who had rescued her life...Oh it was so unbelievable! Why? Why?

The day of the prom was really great. The decoration, the food, the music and the people to be happy. Lysander was with her date and they were dancing .She was a stuck up person, a very beautiful woman, but she was arrogant.

While Lysander and the people were dancing, a big limousine arrived, and a girl was sitting in it. But who is she? Well, she opened the door of the car and got into the school...When she got in, all the people looked at her and Lysander too. It was Hermia!!!! She was so beautiful and gorgeous that no one can think that this girl was her. She was wearing a long, white beautiful dress with some flowers. She was pretty and distinguished in the guests because she wore a big rose on her hair. Her decoration was so real and so special and marvelous, so it was wonderful and superb. All her old classmates were staring at her and all of them admired her appearance.

Lysander looked at her for a while he was out of breath. He felt his heart beating despite the fact that he crushed on her and he could think of nothing else. Hermia seemed to be a dream for him, one flower, one red rose beautiful and sweet. He had forgotten his date and then his date was jealous of Hermia.

They got close to each other. Told about their feelings and they decided to dance because they wanted to have fun and spend their time pleasantly. They were like a dream with a sweet sense, like sugar. They were so beautiful and very loved, but Lysander's date did not want to see them anymore. She had decided to take revenge and set a trap for her.

There's a special place in my heart
where I can feel you near.
No matter how far, darling, you are in my thoughts you appear.
The way we love each other
makes it hard to be apart
so when I can't hold you in my arms,
I hold you in my heart

As Hermia was coming back from the shops one day, she didn't realize the big car which was coming towards her and crashed on her!!! In this car it was Lysander's date at the prom Lysander and who wanted to hurt Hermia because she didn't like her at all and hated her, because she wanted Lysander for her husband, also. She felt angry about her, and she wanted to kill her. Her animosity towards Hermia was unbelievable!

The car went away, without anyone to help Hermia who has hurt all over her body. The woman, Lysander's date had already got away with her car. Later, Lysander was walking on the road, when he saw Hermia in blood. He ran for help!!!!!! He took her to the hospital immediately. He was very anxious about her health. He was near her every day, until the day, when Hermia opened her eyes. When it happened, she looked around herself and realized that she was at the hospital. She noticed that near her was Lysander, who was wondering about her and he was shocked. Lysander was afraid of her death, due to the accident. All the time he was near her and never let her alone because he loved her so much!!He didn't want to happen anything bad to happen to her!

Two months later

Two months later, Hermia felt healthy and happy. Unfortunately, she had hurt seriously, but recovered her strength. Lysander waited her outside the hospital and got close to her. Lysander told her that no one could hurt her again and he would die if it was necessary to rescue her. He was suspicious of this accident and he believed that it was planned by his date. When he was sure that for Hermia was ok, he decided to kill his the date the next day. Lysander loved Hermia so much, like. Hermia was his other half person, who helped .They are loving until today. They have already got married and they have two children. Lysander can't take his mind off Hermia and her accident. They are so happy! Lysander forgot his date. He had decided to have a big and happy family in his life, because he was disappointed with his mother's death and his father's indifference. However, these two lovers made their dreams a reality. Hermia is a famous tango dancer and Lysander a successful football player in London, now. They tell their exciting romantic story to their children every night. They always admire their parents' love! All these are happy romantic moments, which had made love story!
